

AuSable Valley Central School District

Friday March 13th, 2020

Dear Parents and/or Guardians,

The AuSable Valley School District is preparing and is ready to respond proactively to the recent coronavirus crisis. At this time, there are no confirmed cases in Clinton or Essex County and under Superintendent Paul Savage's leadership we are continuing to regularly monitor and communicate with the Department of Health and New York State Education Department on any updates and/or changes to this status.

With that being stated, we feel that it is imperative to be prepared in case there is a school closure anytime in the future. If the decision is to close, each school will provide instructional materials for your child, along with guidelines for completion. The format of materials may differ depending on grade level and building, but all students will have access to instruction. We would like to thank everyone for their patience and understanding as we navigate this ever evolving situation. We want to reiterate that the AuSable Valley Central School is currently not planning a closure, but acting on an abundance of caution and preparation at this time. Please know that we will continue closely monitoring New York State's recommendations and will promptly inform our families if there are any changes to our school day schedule. Thank you again for understanding.

Sincerely,

Chris Fey
AVCS High School Principal

Brittany Trybendis
AVCS Middle School Principal

Michael Francia
Keeseville Elementary Principal

Abby Seymour
Ausable Forks Elementary Principal

Respectfully,

Paul D. Savage II
Superintendent of Schools
